

Shelby County Office of Preparedness

Emergency Operations Center

February 14, 2010

Media Update from the Shelby County Office of Preparedness

Memphis and Shelby County agencies are prepared to respond as snow moves into the Shelby County area tonight.

Dropping temperatures could make driving hazardous by morning.

Public works crews are on alert and will be ready to cover icy overpasses, bridges and roadways should the need arise.

Motorists should use extreme caution during the next several hours and avoid travel unless absolutely necessary.

Temperatures will drop below freezing while the rain and snow are in the Shelby County area.

More updates will be issued as warranted by the Shelby County Office of Preparedness.

For more information, contact the Emergency Operations Center at (901) 515-2525.

(End of Release)
Steve Shular
Public Affairs Officer
Shelby County Sheriff's Office
201 Poplar Avenue
Memphis, TN. 38103
901-545-5532 or 901-359-5117

(End of Release)